

Carbon360 Enterprise

Full training to run your 360 reviews whichever way suits you best.

We know how important great talent management is to the success of your business. We also know that different organisations have different in-house capabilities, and that these will evolve over time.

Carbon360 has been developed to provide the features you require in a 360 feedback tool, with the flexibility to tailor it to your business processes.

Carbon360 is incredibly user friendly and we will fully train you to configure the system to empower your in-house team to run it your own way.

Our expert team will work with you to understand your requirements and provide all the training necessary to ensure that not only is the system set up the way you want, but also that your administrative team are trained to manage all aspects of running your 360 reviews.

Of course, if you do need additional support, your dedicated account manager will be on hand to help you.

Carbon360 gives you the ability to create multiple questionnaires and review templates around your own competency frameworks. Our Enterprise Package also includes full branding of the system with your company colours and logo, making your entire review processes a seamless part of your organisation.
